COUNTY & FEDERATION OF SOCIAL WORKERS REACH TENTATIVE AGREEMENT

Monroe County Executive Jack Doyle and Monroe County Federation of Social Workers President John Vasko today announced that they have reached a tentative collective bargaining agreement.

The four-year agreement affects the wages and health insurance of the approximately 800 county employees represented by this collective bargaining unit. Employees within the Federation of Social Workers are predominantly employed in the Department of Social Services and comprise the second largest union in Monroe County government.

"The Federation of Social Workers represents a significant number of county workers and I am happy that we have been able to reach this tentative agreement with them. I feel that the public, the county government and the employees concerned are always best served when we are able to reach a fair agreement in an amicable way," said County Executive Doyle.

"Contract times can be so unsettling. This agreement should help since it addresses most of the membership's needs for the next four years," said Federation of Social Workers President John Vasko.

This tentative agreement is subject to the approval of the Federation of Social Workers rank and file membership and the Monroe County Legislature.
